Kiss Me Deadly Announces New Album Hootenanny and Celebrates with High-Energy Release Party in Cleveland

CLEVELAND, OH – CLE Records is proud to announce the latest studio album from local favorites Kiss Me Deadly, titled Hootenanny. Recording at the legendary Suma Recording Studio by Michael Seifert, the new record brings together the sounds of Rock, Punk, and R&B. To celebrate the release, the band will host an official album launch concert on April 24, 2026, at the historic Music Settlement in Cleveland's University Circle.

Featuring Jen Poland (Songwriter, Vocals, Guitar, Mandolin), Evan Lieberman (Bass), Madelyn Hayes (Vocals, Drums), Chris Frohring (Guitar) and Daniel Baxter (Keys) the event will kick off at 8:00 PM, drawing a dedicated crowd of fans and music industry professionals for a first look at the band's new material. Known for their infectious energy and genre-blending sound, Kiss Me Deadly's Hootenanny marks a bold new chapter in their discography, showcasing the raw power and polished songwriting that have become their hallmarks.

"We wanted this record to feel like a celebration, a real 'hootenanny' of sounds and stories," says Jen Poland. "Bringing it to life at The Music Settlement, a place that is so central to the Cleveland music community, made the night even more special."

Hootenanny is available now through CLE Records and all major streaming platforms. Physical copies and exclusive band merchandise were also made available to attendees of the April 24th showcase.
